

The San Juan Star

The only Pulitzer Prize-Winning Publication in Puerto Rico

Virgin Islands 85¢ | Monday, February 17, 1997 | Puerto Rico 35¢

Child support debt gets ally

Deadbeat parents will have the amount owed deducted from tax refunds. Page 5

Child Support Administrator expects to recover $142 million. Page 5

PDP presidency candidates shake hands

STAR photo by Ingrid Torres

From left, Cayey Mayor Rolando Ortiz Velázquez, Popular Democratic Party interim President José Aponte and PDP Secretary César Miranda Marín applaud as Rep. Aníbal Acevedo Vilá grabs the hand of seated Sen. Eudaldo Báez Galib during the party's district meeting in Guayama. Acevedo Vilá and Báez Galib are the only two candidates to emerge in the race for the presidency of the party, which is slated to be decided Feb. 23.

Page 3

PORTFOLIO

Critics circle to choose best of P.R. theater

Winners will be announced during awards ceremony. Page 25

Fomento in the midst of major transformation

When Vivoni completes his term, he will have transformed Fomento into a promoter of services. Page 36

Labor unrest trims AA's P.R. bookings

Clinton sets precedent by ending pilots' walkout; move eliminates a potent bargaining tool. Page 4